Dancing permits tabled

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus councilmembers were a little bit uneasy Monday about granting entertainment permits to two businesses in the city, allowing them to offer topless dancing.

There are currently two establishments in Romulus that offer topless shows. Councilmembers said there was no need for more "nude entertainment."

Owners of Wings and Wheels Bar and P.J.'s Distillery said they didn't want the entertainment license for topless dancing.

"We want the license for lingerie fashion shows. We don't want to compete with the other businesses," Wings and Wheels co-owner Robert R. Remer said.

Mayor Pro Tem Randolph Gear said he would not be in favor of granting the license because the police chief, Fred Dansby, didn't recommend it.

In his report to the city clerk, Dansby said co-owner Carolyn McGraw maintained the lingerie shows would be provided only once or twice weekly and would be done in good taste. Dansby said McGraw indicated no other type of entertainment would be covered by this type of permit.

"A permit of this type would allow a licensee to offer a wide range of entertainment, including but not limited to, topless dancing, exhibitions such as "mud-wrestling" and lingerie shows," Dansby said.

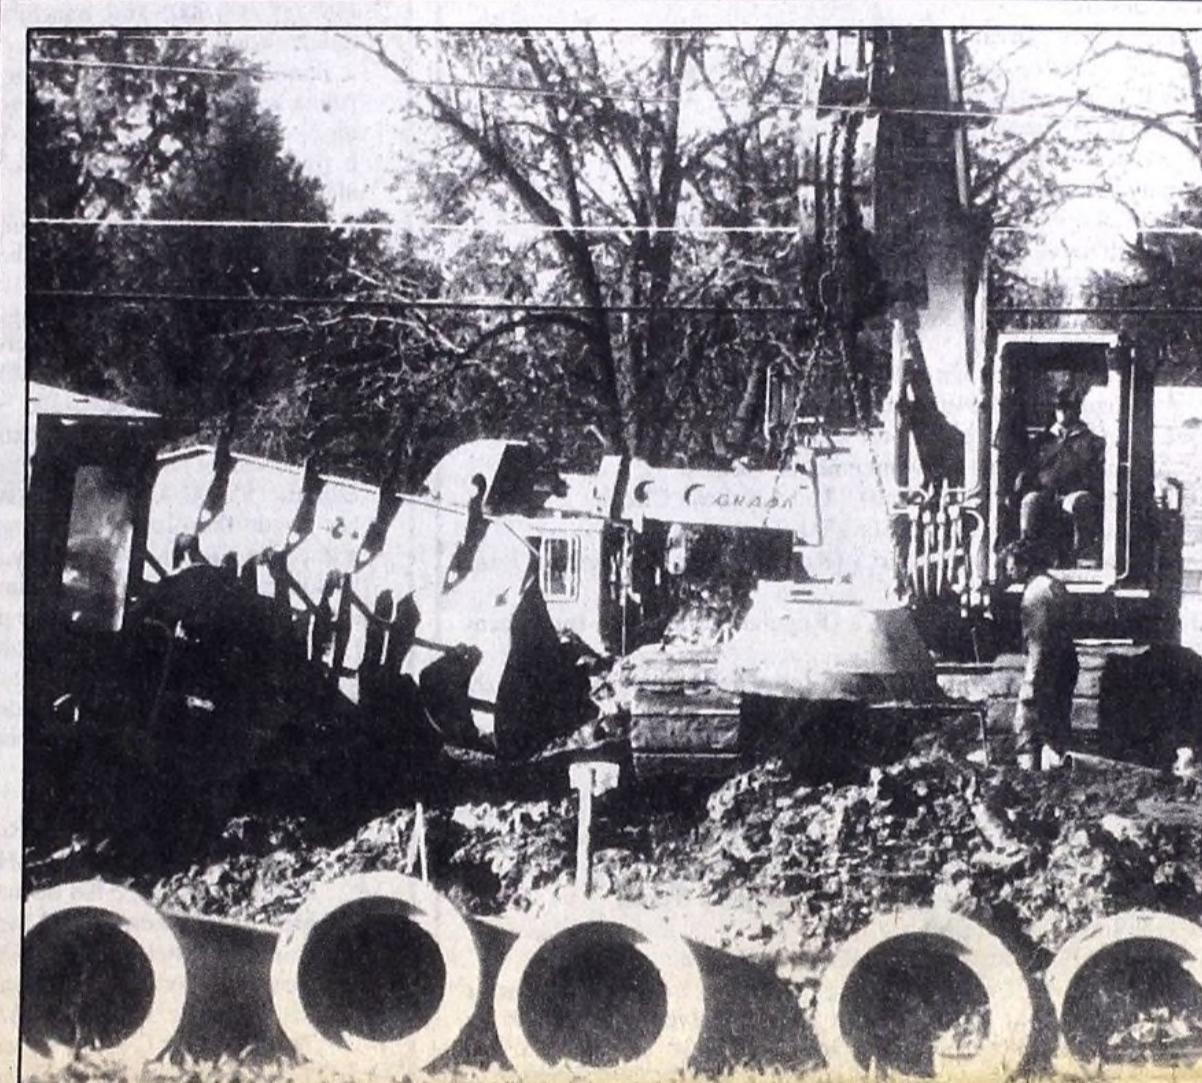

Dansby said granting new entertainment permits to Class C establishments such as Wings and Wheels Bar would not be in the best interest of the city or the citizens of the community.

Gear asked Remer what type of fashion shows would be presented.

"There's no top being shown. Just arms, legs and lingerie will be shown," Remer said.

Councilmember Jimmie Raspberry said Remer and McGraw should be given a reason why they were denied a

New generator to help cable

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

The picture is now much clearer for many residents, thanks to a new $16,000 generator at Omnicom Cable in Romulus.

Lisa Boland, general manager of Omnicom Cablevision in Romulus, said Monday there have been more outages this year because of the increased amount of storms. The generator will help make a difference the next time heavy winds start to pick up, Boland said.

"It should decrease the number of outages. Customers should start seeing a difference," Boland said. "Our power service in Romulus is worse than any other headquarters."

Councilmember Jimmie Raspberry said the picture had been fading out for several months, early in the morning and late in the day.

"We're paying for services and it goes out," Raspberry said.

A few weeks ago, councilmembers instructed city attorneys Meso T. Hammoud and Barry A. Seifman to write a letter to Boland, urging the cable company to get the glitches out of its lines.

Raspberry wasn't too happy with the letter. He said it didn't state the problems the residents were having or what Omnicom needed to fix.

"I'm appalled the lawyers turned it into a comedy. Lawyers were not supposed to put on a theatrical scene," Raspberry said.

Raspberry said he and other residents just wanted to get the cable to work since the service was costing a bundle to own.

"Our rates since Omnicom first started in the city have doubled. We're paying more and getting less," Raspberry said.

Boland said if there are any problems in the near future with outages, residents can call the regular Omnicom Cable number to get service. Boland also said if residents can't get through right away, be patient.

"If there's a major outage, and a customer is trying to call about the outage, we ask they wait an average of 40 to 45 seconds before they call. The outage is something that affects the entire area, and which can be fixed immediately or within a short amount of time," Boland said.

Boland said Omnicom will soon be adding a new channel, CNBC - a consumer news channel. She also said there will be more "pay-per-view" programs for Romulus residents to choose from in the future.

City sets winter hours for recycling post

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

New winter recycling hours and days have been posted for Romulus.

Residents can start dropping off their recyclables from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Nov. 10.

The rest of the dates for recycling will be from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Dec. 8, Jan. 12, Feb. 9, March 9 and April 13.

The Romulus recycling center opened last August in the City Hall parking lot. Jeffrey Martell, community development coordinator, said 150 cubic yards of recyclable glass, plastic, newspapers and metals have been dropped off so far.

"We started out slow, but for being open just three months,

By recycling, we not only save taxpayers' money, but we save our environment, too.

—Jeffrey Martell
Community development coordinator and removing the amount of recyclables we have from our waste stream, we feel we are doing an excellent job, and we hope to expand the numbers in the coming months," Martell said.

The cost of landfilling has skyrocketed in the past two years, which only enhances the need for recycling, according to Martell.

"Dumping fees at the Riverview Municipal Landfill have doubled, so recycling plays an important part in reducing our costs. By recycling, we not only save taxpayers' money, but we save our environment, too," Martell said.

Romulus made an agreement with BestWay Recycling Inc. and Nelson Paper Co. to provide the collection bins and dumping rights at their plants. Both are donating their efforts to the city, Martell said.

"We are really blessed by the fact that two important recycling companies are located in our city, and to have them work in harmony to reduce the current solid waste crisis with us, says a lot of both of them," Mayor Beverly McAnalley said.

Although recycling has many benefits, city officials have a few concerns with drop-off procedures. When residents arrive at the drop-off facility, one in five do not prepare the recyclables properly.

"Some people think that we can pick through their garbage for recyclables, and we aren't in that business," Martell said. "It would help the staff volunteers if all the material is clean and separated, and we could eliminate picking through the garbage, then we could service more incoming automobiles."

City officials are asking for all labels to be removed from all glass containers, and if possible, the plastic ones too.

Residents can clean any aluminum or tin cans, and remove the labels and bottoms to make room for storage in their home.

The city accepts batteries of all sizes, including car, boat and tractor, as well as household types. Newspapers should be bundled together and all glossy printed magazines, coupons or flyers should be removed.

"As long as we have a growing interest in recycling, as we do, we will make every effort to assist our residents in this effort," McAnalley said.

In the near future, Romulus, in conjunction with the Conference of Western Wayne, will be addressing different community groups with a recycling presentation. The presentations will be funded by a State of Michigan recycling grant.

District begins bond proposal push

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Technology and the Romulus Community School bond propositions go hand-in-hand for the Nov. 6 election, and school officials are going to make sure residents understand that before they go to the polls.

Art McPharlin, Romulus community relations director, said the distribution of information on the bond proposals, in excess of $50 million, already began a few weeks ago with meetings staged in each school building.

There will be a live "call-in program" Oct. 30 on Romulus Cable, channel 43, from 7 to 8 p.m. for residents to ask questions about the bond proposals, McPharlin said. WXYT-radio personality Denny McLain will be the host for the evening.

McPharlin said a brochure will be distributed Nov. 3 to Romulus homes defining the bond proposals, and explaining what the results will mean for the city school district.

The first bond proposal asks for more than $45 million, but none of the additional money would increase local taxes. The extra money would come from a refinancing plan extending current loans the school district owes into 2001.

"There will be no increase in the tax rate, but there will be an extension in bond indebtedness for the school district," McPharlin said.

Under the proposal, every school would be modernized with computer networks, televisions, video recorders and satellite dishes. All the wiring used would be fiber optic, which would allow students and teachers the ability to communicate with other computer stations around the world.

McPharlin said it was Romulus Superintendent William Bedell who thought about computer instruction being an asset to students four years ago.

"What we're proposing is putting five computers in every classroom kindergarten through grade 12. There are 300 computers in the school district now, and we would like to be networked to one another," McPharlin said.

There will be a 45-minute technology meeting at Romulus Senior High School Nov. 4 for all residents. School officials will demonstrate how technology can directly affect every child in the school district, according to McPharlin.

District board members will be available at the meeting if there are any questions from residents.

Under the second bond proposal, the schools are asking for $5 million of taxpayers' money for the construction of a swimming pool complex with public access. If approved, the proposal would cost each taxpayer between $20 and $30.

The complex would feature an Olympic-size pool, separate showers and a diving area. It is not known at this time what school building would house the new pool.

In addition to all the brochures being sent to the homes and the meetings being staged, McPharlin said hundreds of phone calls have been made to residents.

Hit-and-run suspect sought by area police

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

The Westland Police Department is asking for information from anyone who might have been in the Merriman and Cherry Hill area at approximately 1 a.m. Saturday.

Shortly after 1 a.m., a 36-year-old Westland man was run down by an automobile and left to die on the side of the road, according to police. The victim was reportedly walking on the sidewalk in front of the NBD located at that intersection.

"As close as we can estimate the time was around 1:15 a.m. The victim had just purchased a pop from the nearby Mobil Station and left on foot, as far as we know – and then was hit. It was about that time the Mobil Gas Station attendant heard a loud noise," said Peter Brokas, of the Westland Police Department.

It wasn't until approximately 2:45 a.m. that another driver noticed the man laying on the lawn between the sidewalk and the road. He immediately phoned police. The victim was listed as dead on the scene.

"According to the medical examiner he died right away," Brokas said.

Police have found parts from the suspect's vehicle, which they will use to identify the type of vehicle, its year and make, Brokas said.

"Hopefully we'll be able to pin it down to the type and year," he said.

Earlier this month, two other Westland men were injured in hit-and-run accidents. One of the accidents took place near the Trafalgar Apartments on Venoy just south of Cherry Hill Road, the second took place in Canton Township.

The victim of the first incident, a 32-year-old Westland man, was riding his bike with a friend when a blue, late-model Mustang hit him. He was transported to Annapolis Hospital where his condition was stabilized. He is recovering from his injuries at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Days after the first incident, a 28-year-old Westland man was nearly run down by a driver of a late-model, blue Mustang while walking in a parking lot at the Canton Crossings Shopping Mall, which is located at Ford and Lilley roads, according to police.

The driver of the Mustang was described as a white male, in his late teens to early 20s.

At this time, police don't believe the most recent incident involved the same car, but they are unsure if it could have been the same driver, Brokas said.

Police have found parts from the suspect's vehicle, which they will use to identify the type

Mock chemical emergency test is 1st for Romulus firefighters

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

The first on-the-spot "mock emergency" for Romulus firefighters and a number of local emergency units proved to be a success last week.

Emergency units from downriver, Wayne County, Michigan State Police, Wyandotte and Romulus joined forces for a test run on cleaning up a fake chemical spill at Woodbridge Corporation in Romulus.

Michigan State Police Lt. Chris Rundle, who is coordinator for the Emergency Management Division of the state police, played ringmaster for the event, making sure each department was communicating with Romulus fire chief William Greenslait, who would be in charge if a real hazard occurred.

"This is a full-scale exercise with the objective of testing the caliber of personnel, the equipment and various departments coordinating together," Rundle said.

About 9:15 a.m., a chemical spill was simulated. It started when workers were unloading a truck carrying chemicals. A cuplet broke and the chemical spilled out near the dike area of Woodbridge, according to Walter J. Pociask, corporate vice president of K & D Industrial Services Inc.

situation, Pociask said his company would be responsible for cleaning up the spill after the chemicals were neutralized.

"The chemical can be neutralized with dish detergent and water. Once it is neutralized, it will be a non-hazardous solution," Pociask said.

As a part of the mock spill, paramedics took one man and one woman to Annapolis Hospital for chemical intoxication and severe burns.

Advanced paramedic Jeanette Terlikowski said the 34-years-old woman inhaled fumes and was having respiratory difficulties.

As the Mobile Intensive Care Unit drove off with the injured people, the Hazardous Materials response team suited up in balloon-like gear to neutralize the chemical. The HAZMET team also built a free-standing shower stall to rinse off individuals exposed to the chemical.

A mobile command unit was stationed in the center of activities. There was an emergency response team on hand, as well as several fire trucks from various fire stations in Wayne County.

During the exercise, about 20 high school students huddled nearby and started to walk near the mock hazard. Police officers directed the group to a safe point behind the patrol cars.

Fire officials said in a real chemical emergency, there would be three zones set up: hot, warm and cold. The hot zone is where the actual incident is taking place. The warm zone is farther away from the incident, where there is decontamination. The cold zone is the farthest point from the emergency where there is no chance of contamination.

Romulus fire Chief Fred Dansby was making his rounds. Dansby said he would be in charge of traffic control and making sure pedestrians don't get hurt.

"We've blocked traffic. All the pedestrians are in a safe area away from the spill," Dansby said.

The mock emergency lasted more than two hours, as each unit worked its way to communicating with the next unit on what needed to be handled. Afterward, Rundle gave the thumbs-up to the entire group.

Local resident 'a natural' in wild kingdom

Glenn Dent, a naturalist at Oakwoods Metropark for the past 15 years, has a mission in life. The mission is to educate people on how to appreciate nature.

"I don't think people understand life until they can understand nature," said Dent, a Romulus resident. "Going out into the country is a fascinating experience. I think everyone has to be exposed to nature before they can become experienced with it."

For his efforts, Dent was chosen this year for the annual Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority Outstanding Employee-of-the-Year Award.

Dent said children around kindergarten age should begin to learn about trees and flowers, a time when attitudes towards wildlife can be set.

Dent is a graduate from Wilmington College in Wilmington, Ohio. He also has pursued his studies at Wright State University in Dayton, Ohio.

Dent landed his first job as a naturalist at Dayton Montgomery Park, where he spent five years before being hired at Oakwoods Metropark.

Besides teaching people about the outdoors, Dent said he does quite a lot of photographic work.

"I give lectures to the students," he said. "During the week I give tours of the park to the schools who make appointments. I give lectures on flowers, trees or anything pertaining to nature. I like being outdoors."

Dent said he is proud to receive the annual award because he was brought to Oakwoods Metropark on an affirmative action program. Dent said when he first started, some people had doubts about his hiring because he was black.

"Some people resented me. Those same people, however, voted for me to have this award. It took a whole lot of work," Dent said.

Dent has been a naturalist for 20 years. He is married to wife Libby and has two daughters: Terra, 10, and Amy, 5.

Residents complain about teens drinking in park

There's a problem with teens drinking in the Romulus parks, and local residents want the situation resolved soon.

At the Romulus council meeting Monday, residents David Wright and his wife, Judith, told councilmembers they have seen several teens in Merriman Park late at night consuming alcoholic beverages, including beer and vodka.

Wright said the teens are loud and keep his family up all hours of the evening.

"We have a lot of problems with drunk teens on Colbert Street. Every day my wife has to clean up the empty and broken bottles," Wright said.

Wright proposed a few solutions for councilmembers to think about which could render the situation. He said a 10-foot tall fence which ends at the sidewalk would deter the teens from going into the park at late hours of the night.

"The park could close at 10 p.m. or when it gets dark. You say you have an ordinance to enforce park hours, but it's not enforced," Wright said.

Wright told councilmembers he has made several calls to the local police department, but officers either tell Wright "there's nothing they can do" or arrive at the scene, take the alcohol and pour it out, then leave.

"That's a stupid answer for the police to say 'there's nothing we can do,'" councilmember Bill Wadsworth said. "Something can be done. They can be picked up."

Mayor Beverly McAnally said Merriman Park isn't the only park in Romulus with problems. She said several city parks have been vandalized to the point where the vandalism has cost the city thousands of dollars.

"The public doesn't value the parks. We put money into them and the kids destroy them," McAnally said.

McAnally said two drinking fountains were installed at one of the city parks and the local teens broke them into pieces. They have also vandalized the park bathrooms, McAnally said.

Devil's Night events set

Romulus Junior High is taking a new approach to Devil's Night this year.

The school will stage a Devil's Night party from 7 p.m. to Wright's wife said the residents do appreciate the park, but it's the teens who don't care.

"Kids can't play out there anymore. I spent more than an hour picking up garbage one day. It's a big party at night," Judith Wright said.

Mayor Pro Tem Randolph Gear instructed McAnally to meet with police chief Fred Dansby to discuss solutions to the park problems. The mayor will provide the council with a report sometime next month.

2nd recall petition drive is under way in Wayne

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Another recall attempt is brewing in Wayne with the same goal - to kick out all members of the Wayne City Council including Mayor Patrick Norton.

This time, however, the petitions contain specific language triggering an uproar on all sides.

Recall petitions were filed Oct. 19 with Wayne County Clerk James R. Killeen. The petitions list six specific reasons for the recall. The first five are directed toward councilmembers and the mayor, and the sixth complaint is levied directly at Norton.

The petitions demand the recall of Norton and the six-member council: Albert Damitio, Robert Beeny, Thomas Weyand, Edward Rowe, Donna McEachern and Thomas Kelly.

Several months ago, members of the Wayne Charter Committee filed recall petitions against all seven members of the council. The petitions contained enough signatures to put the issue on the ballot and an election date was ready to be set.

The drive was halted, however, when Wayne County Circuit Judge Charles Kaufman disqualified the petitions stating the charter committee failed to provide specific reasons for the recall.

The petitions contained language that had been approved by the Wayne County Election Commission, and was identical to the language on the petitions in the ill-fated Coleman Young recall.

The group starting this second round of the recall battle is unknown, with its members listed as the "residents of Wayne," according to resident Donald Farmer, president of the Wayne Charter Committee and an active supporter of the first recall attempt.

The six complaints listed on the petitions as reason for the recall request are:

- Violation of the Open Meetings Act by failing to require the city planning commission to keep minutes for its meetings;

- Approving the loan agreement with The Associated Newspapers seven years after the fact (the loan money came from the Kiddie Pool fund);

- Violation of the City Charter, section 6.9, by failing to hire and retain a city manager that meets the qualifications required by the Charter;

- Approving a $600,000 city contract for creation of wetlands on city-owned property located in the City of Romulus;

- Failing to create a Charter Revision Committee when requested by citizens;

- Violating the City Charter, section 5.11, by accepting payments for lease of office space from the independent city auditor.

Attorneys for the recall group, Matthew R. Abel and James Arredondo, said "the first recall attempt was prompted by the discovery that the Wayne Planning Commission, with the tacit approval of the city council, had failed to keep minutes of its meetings for the last six-and-one-half years."

The councilmembers and the mayor are being sued by the Wayne Charter Committee for allegedly violating the Open Meetings Act, according to Abel and Arredondo. The Open Meetings Act, among other things, requires that meeting minutes be kept of official commissions.

The lawsuit is now pending.

Artist brings dolls to life

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Creating dolls isn't child's play.

For Betty Boyer of Elwell Road, making dolls is both a hobby and a business - the best of both worlds.

"I started to teach doll classes on a full-time basis in early 1982 while I was on a round of layoffs from my job. My husband encouraged me to quit my job and devote all of my time to the dolls when I became discouraged with the constant layoffs and callbacks," Boyer said. "I became so busy that I was teaching 60 students a week and traveling to doll shows and exhibits almost every weekend. I had more than 250 different doll molds and two rooms full of dolls."

Her successful business came to a halt in 1985 when she was injured in an automobile accident, which temporarily impaired her eyesight.

"My husband, Bob, and my daughter, Cyndy Suliman, finished teaching my classes at that time, and then I sold all of my molds and other supplies. I didn't think that I'd be able to make dolls again," Boyer said. "After I recovered, I drove a school bus for a year, and then began to look for another job. My daughter encouraged me to start teaching again because she thought I would prefer working for myself rather than to work for someone else."

The Boyers, who moved from their home in Romulus to Van Buren Township at the time, turned their one-car attached garage into a studio and Betty Boyer made a couple of phone calls to her former students.

"I had kept in touch with a lot of my former students, and many of them were anxious to come back," Boyer said. "Now, I'm teaching one evening class and starting up a day class. I'd like to do more classes, but I don't want to be as busy as I was before my accident."

dent."

When the students begin their first class, they choose one of several doll molds to use. First, they pour liquid porcelain into the plaster mold and allow the greenware - unfired porcelain - to set. The parts of the doll are fired at 2,300 degrees Fahrenheit in Boyer's kiln, painted and then fired again.

Students can complete a doll in three sessions, but after the first doll is completed, they often want to continue to make additional dolls for themselves and for gifts, Boyer said.

COMMON MISCONCEPTIONS

There are many ideas that people commonly share about their eyes; however, many of them are no longer considered true. You can test your understanding of these ideas, by deciding whether each of these statements is true or false: 1. You can damage your eyes by using a light that is too dim. 2. A cataract is a film that is peeled off during surgery. 3. Glaucoma can only affect the elderly. 4. If you only have use of one eye, and you use it too much, it will wear out faster. 5. Headaches are almost always caused by a problem with the eyes. 6. You can damage your eyes by holding a book too close to your eyes. 7. During a cataract operation, the eyeball is removed and later placed back in position. 8. It is safe to watch a solar eclipse through sunglasses.

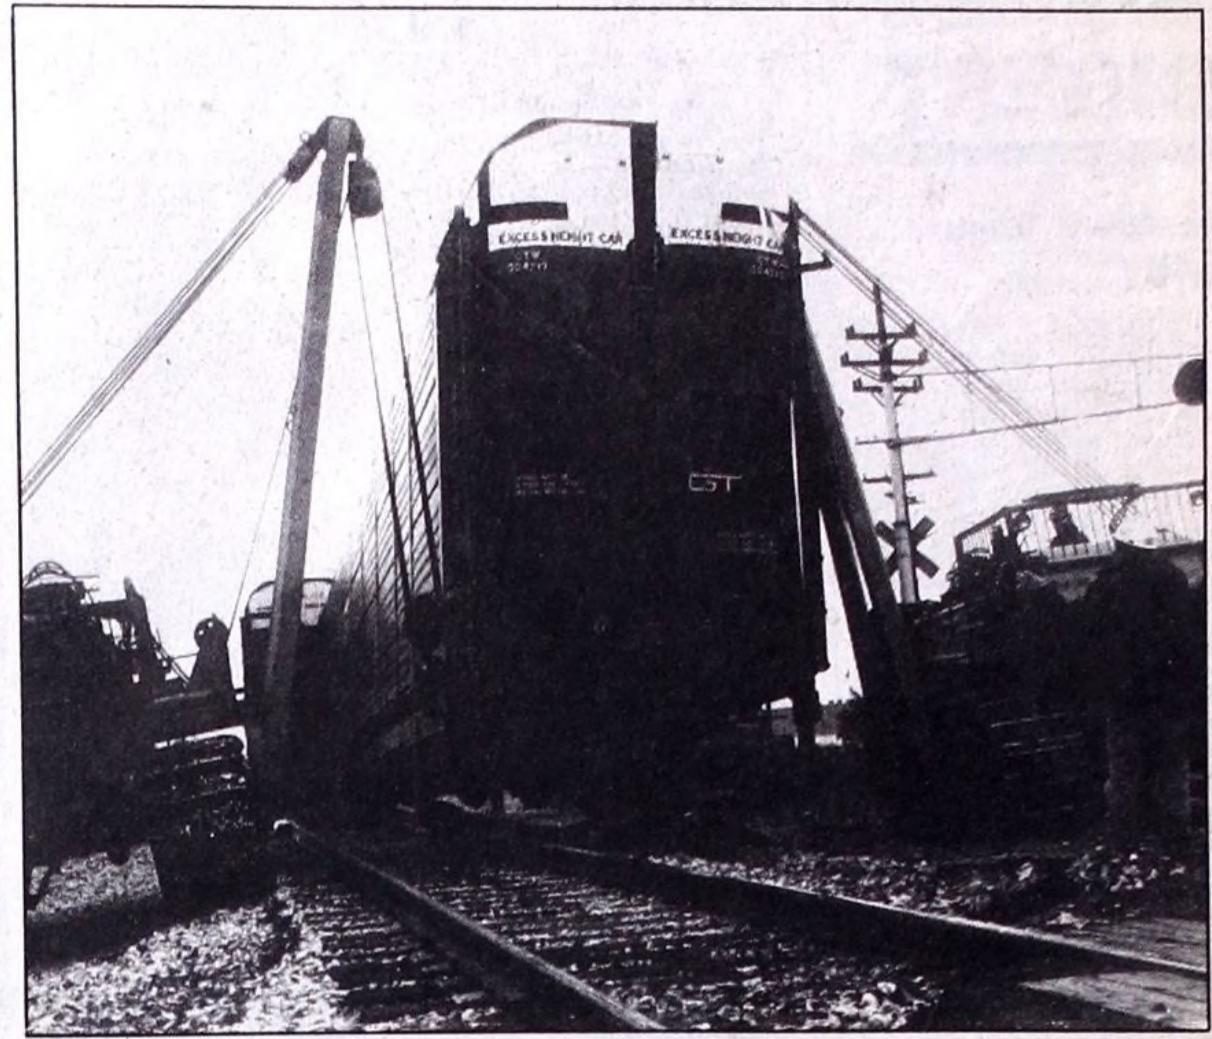

All of these statements are false. A helpful hint: Always wear protective eyewear during sport activities and when using power tools.

Wayne schools to lose $600,000

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

Wayne-Westland school officials on both sides of the bargaining table now have a new obstacle to overcome, and this one carries a $600,000 price tag.

By this time in the school year, contract talks were expected to be completed and the teachers were to have consented to a school calendar. That calendar would have taken into account the 19 hours junior high school students will miss this year, because their class day was shortened from six to five hours.

On the contrary, no contract has been approved to date and no school calendar has been adopted, which may cost the district even more money, according to officials.

In order to qualify for state education aid, all students must have 180 days (required to be six hours) of classroom instruction. Because the junior high school day is now five hours instead of six, the students will not be in the classroom 180 full days.

If the students don't make up the missed hours of classroom time, the district could lose up to $600,000 of state aid this year, officials said.

Teachers and parents were to meet at the junior high schools for conferences this week. For now, however, conferences have been set aside while district officials work their way through teacher contract talks and a maze of state regulations.

"By postponing conferences it will give us the opportunity to make up some (classroom) hours," said Thomas Svitkovich, associate superintendent.

The conferences, Svitkovich said, will be staged once union and district officials settle the teachers contract.

"We hope to be in a position to have the 19 hours handled. When you reduce the instructional day by one hour, and with all of the half-days you lose hours," he said.

Fire officials urge alarm check when turning clocks back

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

About 6,000 people die and 130,000 are injured each year by home fires, according to the International Association of Fire Chiefs.

Ironically, a majority of those individuals could have been saved if their homes contained a working smoke detector. As part of Fire Prevention Week (Oct. 7-13), firefighters across the country are asking homeowners to replace their batteries in their smoke detectors the same time they change the clocks back from daylight-saving time on Oct. 28.

Michael O'Brien, Wayne fire marshall, said every Wayne resident should have a smoke detector as required by the city ordinance.

"Residents should be changing their batteries in the smoke detector each year. Statistics show up to 40 percent of the smoke detectors don't function properly. The main reason is the batteries are old and are not working," O'Brien said.

O'Brien recommends having a smoke detector on each living area of the home.

"I remember one time there was a fire and the people slept right through it. Chances are they would have perished if their neighbors didn't hear the alarm and woke them up," O'Brien said.

O'Brien said he remembers to change his smoke detector batteries at Christmas-time because that's when those celebrating with trees and lights keep using old lights, which could cause a fire.

"Change Your Clock and Change Your Battery" is a program sponsored by the International Association of Fire Chiefs, the American Burn Association and Eveready Battery Co.

The sponsors recommend the following safety tips on protecting the home against fires:

- Install smoke alarms on every level of the home, especially near sleeping areas in stairwells leading to occupied areas of the home.
- Test and clean smoke alarms monthly, ensuring each has a working battery and dust and grease are removed.
- Change smoke alarm and flashlight batteries in the fall when you change your clocks from daylight-saving time.
- Keep flashlights in designated spots: in kitchen, basement, family room and near beds.
- Keep fire extinguishers handy. Know how to use them.
- Don't overload electrical circuits; don't plug in appliances with frayed or worn out cords.
- Keep an escape ladder on hand.

In a fire:

- Touch inside doors before opening them. If hot, use an alternate escape route.
- Crawl on hands and knees through smoke-filled areas.
- Never re-enter a burning or smoldering structure.

Rumors of airport eating Romulus are set aside

By MARGO DEWY
ANP Staff Writer

Imagine if current modernization plans for Detroit Metropolitan Airport took off to include taking over all of Romulus by 2005.

Well, that's just not going to happen, according to Federal Aviation Administration officials.

Rumors from various residents and non-residents about the Detroit Metropolitan Airport expansion taking small bites of Romulus towards a goal of gobbling the whole city are all false and a bit unrealistic, said Dean Nitz, FAA supervisor for Michigan.

"Romulus is quite a sizable community in acreage. Most of the improvements occur on existing airport property," Nitz said.

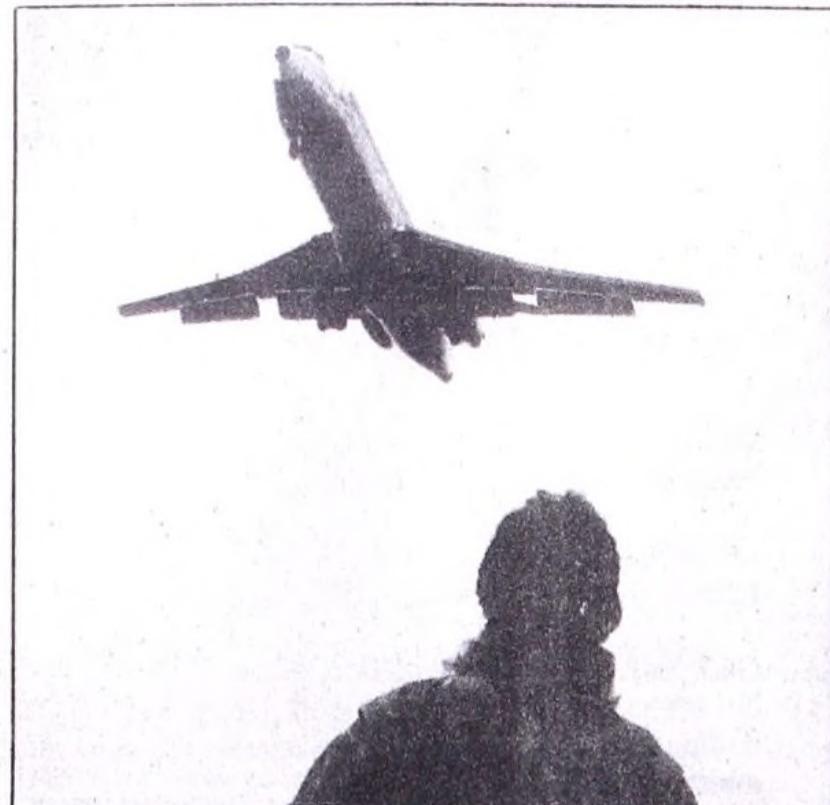

Nitz said the only need for additional property right now, and in the near future, would be for the fourth north/south parallel runway.

"The fourth parallel needs about 554 acres to be acquired as noted in the Environmental Impact Statement," he said. "Another 50 acres of land is needed for the interchange."

"There are also some replacement wetlands that are to be acquired, but those are not being proposed to be replaced in the city of Romulus."

Nitz said the airport takes up only 10 percent of Romulus.

Matt Raftary, director of Romulus assessment, said the city consists of 23,040 acres or 36 square miles, which includes the airport. Airport officials said the airport consists of 4,964 acres or 10 miles, which is about one-third of the city.

Although property expansion may not take over Romulus, it looks like job opportunities and a surge in the economy for surrounding municipalities will definitely increase in the city if the airport bond issue is passed by voters Nov. 4.

The Committee for a Better Metro Airport stated in a recent brochure if the bond issue is passed, there will be an increase of 20,000 jobs.

The committee also said local cities would benefit economically: "Romulus, $105 million; Belleville, $37 million; Westland, $30 million; Wayne, $23 million; and Inkster, $14 million."

Besides the addition of the fourth north-south runway, $100 million would be spent on a 3,200-space parking structure, flood control and construction of anti-noise berms and opening of a noise-control office.

Oakwood is Advanced Medicine

In Vitro Fertilization

In vitro fertilization is one of several new treatments for infertility successfully being practiced at Oakwood today. This highly specialized procedure has enabled hundreds of Michigan couples, who otherwise would not have been able to conceive, to bear children. The procedure involves removal of eggs from the woman's ovaries, the addition of sperm to the eggs in the laboratory, and then placement of fertilized eggs into the uterus where the baby may develop. Physicians currently at Oakwood succeeded in developing the state's first in vitro fertilization pregnancy and have pioneered a number of new reproductive technologies.

At our state-of-the-art facility, couples undergo a comprehensive analysis process involving a team of highly skilled physicians, nurses and technicians. If you would like more information on in vitro fertilization or any of the advanced medicine we offer, your physician may refer you, or you may call the Center for Reproductive Medicine at Oakwood Hospital.

Oakwood Health Services is one of the largest health care systems in Michigan, with five hospitals, more than 30 local health care and specialty centers and more than 1,000 physicians in every major health care specialty and subspecialty. Oakwood will serve more than one-half million patients this year.

In this interview, Mack talks candidly about the downside of politics, county projects and the Detroit Metropolitan Airport expansion project.

ASSOCIATED NEWSPAPERS: What are the most important issues facing Wayne County?

MILTON MACK: During the 1990s, environmental issues are going to be increasingly important. At the same time, we have to implement the new Wayne County solid waste plan, which means a massive amount of recycling being done by virtually every community in Wayne County.

ANP: What does the typical resident in your district expect from you and county government?

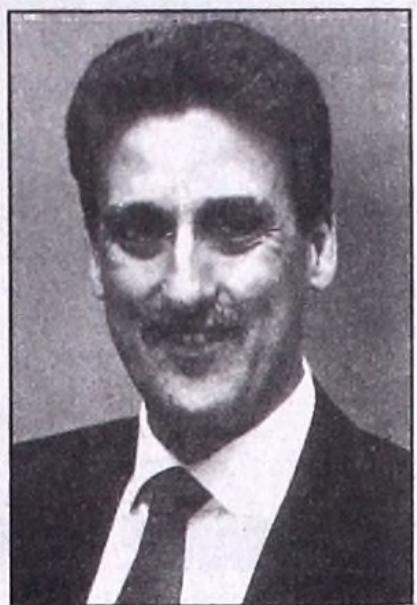

MM: I have older suburban communities facing the bad side of urban sprawl, which is businesses moving to newer suburban communities and leaving behind older suburban communities.

ANP: What is being done to address that issue?

MM: We need to direct and manage growth to preserve our resources. Sprawling taxes the public. The public doesn't realize the impact out of their pocket books when sprawling goes on. An easy way to see the impact is to look at the Southeast Michigan region of five million people. In that region, there is no population growth. But we have built many new schools and closed many new schools over the past few years. We're moving jobs around from community to community.

ANP: Will the Metro Detroit Airport expansion project take over Romulus?

MM: Absolutely not. We're really talking about an airport modernization project. It's designed to do two things: Make the airport more convenient for the traveling public and make the airport an asset to Romulus. It will open up the city for development. The next phase of development is to open a second major terminal. As far as economic development, we're talking about 20,000 new jobs. They will be jobs for people in the area. Some of these people who have jobs now in the area will come over to the airport because these are better jobs.

ANP: What is the time schedule of the project?

MM: We hope to have the entire modernization package complete in five years. You're talking about building new parking structures, linking Eureka Road to Merriman Road, new midfield terminals, major changes at the airport and a runway which will help reduce noise. We're also talking about longer runways, which mean the airplane gets up in the sky faster.

ANP: Critics say Wayne County officials are timid in bumping heads with Northwest Airlines to resolve the noise problem in the county. What do you think?

MM: In the negotiating sessions I've seen, I don't see any reluctance to do battle. A few years ago, when Northwest made some thinly-veiled threats about what they would do if things didn't go their way, I handed them an eviction notice. The county is not going to roll over for anybody. Northwest is the biggest out there, but they won't get whatever they want. No airline is going to rule the airport.

ANP: Talk about road problems and improvements in the county.

MM: Over the past few years, the highways have gotten cleaner, potholes have been repaired quickly. People think the property taxes they pay the county are for roads. Property tax money the county receives goes to fund all other aspects of county government. They're not used for the airport, drains, roads or sewer systems. Road money comes from gas taxes collected by the state and federal government. Not a penny for roads comes from county tax revenues.

ANP: What about implementing a toll road system, like the one in Chicago?

MM: The idea of toll roads is not very popular in Michigan. That's because we love the automobile more than anybody, and resent to pay somebody to drive on a road that has already been built.

ANP: If you were named king of the county, what would be your first move from the throne?

MM: I would lump all environmental services in the county into one part of the government. There's a failure in the government to look at the big picture and to think globally. People get focused some time on the little piece of the pie they're dealing with. You have to keep in mind at all times what is your mission. Environmental protection is about protecting the environment. A $10,000 fine does nothing to help the environment. We need to prioritize government and remember the big picture.

Curbside recycling gains momentum as trash day option

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Turning trash into treasures is the goal of the recycling programs being initiated in many western Wayne County communities. Curbside recycling is an option two members of the 18-community Conference of Western Wayne have already adopted. Plymouth Township and Dearborn began curbside programs last summer, and both communities have reported an enthusiastic response from residents, according to Jeanna Paluzzi, CWW solid waste coordinator.

Several other communities in neighboring counties have adopted curbside recycling, and Livonia officials are currently studying the feasibility of a millage proposal to fund a curbside recycling program, Paluzzi said.

"There are many options available for curbside pickups," she said. "Some communities require boxes or containers of different colors for the different types of recyclables, while others have a so-called blue box where all the recyclables are placed. In some communities, the materials are sorted at the curb and placed in separate containers on the truck by the collectors."

During the early part of the recycling program, if materials are improperly placed in the containers, stickers are placed on the items and they are left at the curb, Paluzzi said. The information on the sticker tells residents why the item was inappropriate for recycling.

"Not only are we interested in promoting curbside and drop-off recycling, but we are working to promote the use of recycled products. It is important to ensure that markets are available for the recycled materials," Paluzzi said. "We are encouraging businesses, municipalities and individuals in the CWW area to look for recycled products when they purchase paper or insulation, for example. We are also informing recreation departments about the availability of recycled plastics which are being made into park benches, trash containers and lumber-like landscaping materials."

A Wayne resident unloads newspapers from the trunk of his car during a recycling drop-off day in the city. If curbside recycling is adopted county-wide, there will be no need for residents to load down their cars and travel to a drop-off site.

Paluzzi noted curbside recycling and composting are included in options for communities outlined in the Wayne County Solid Waste Management Plan.

Removing a minimum of 25 percent of municipal solid waste through recycling materials such as glass, metal, plastic and paper is the object of the county plan.

Curbside collection of recyclables plus a recycling education program would place individual communities in compliance with the solid waste plan requirement, Paluzzi said.

"In addition to being in compliance with the plan, the recyclers gain the satisfaction that they are making a contribution to preserving the environment," Paluzzi said.

BUSINESS NEWS
DIGEST*Business plan is suggested

What does it take to make a small business successful? Ron Swick, owner of Mail Boxes Etc., has some advice:

- Create a business plan detailing all the costs - from leasing an office to purchasing equipment to mail and package pick-up and delivery.

- Survey and monitor the competition. A firm grasp of what competitors are doing helps businesses better market themselves.

- For store businesses, a "grand-opening" promotion is effective in enhancing viability. Begin promoting the business at least three months before the grand-opening.

- Set a consistent schedule and budget for advertising and public relations. Consistency of a business message is vital.

- Listen to your customers' needs. This will lend credibility to your business and increase sales.

Academy
nominations
sought locally

Congressman William D. Ford (D-Taylor) declared Nov. 1, 1990 the deadline for accepting applications for nomination to the United States Military Service from men and women of the 15th congressional district.

Nominations will be available for the class entering in June 1991 to the Military, Naval, Air Force and Merchant Marine Academies. Applicants must be at least 17 years old, but must not be 22 by July 1991. They must be United States citizens, unmarried and legal residents of the 15th congressional district.

"In addition to these basic requirements," Ford said, "my nominations are based upon a strong academic record, SAT and/or ACT scores, extra-curricular activities and the recommendations of principals, counselors, high school teachers and coaches."

Application forms or additional information can be obtained by writing Congressman Ford at 3716 Newberry, Wayne, Mich., 48184, or calling his district office at 722-1411.

Willow Run chief named president

Jerry King, Willow Run Airport manager, was elected president of the Michigan Association of Airport Executives last month. Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara was happy with the announcement:

"We are pleased that Jerry has been recognized in this manner by his fellow airport managers and airport executives across the state," he said. "This is quite an honor."

King was elected by the Michigan Association of Airport Executives. King was elected second vice president of MAAE in 1988 and first vice president in 1989.

King anticipates the challenge of overseeing the organization and feels his experience will be beneficial to Willow Run Airport.

Dr. Thomas Gerou recently passed the National Board-Certified examination to become a certified Chiropractic Sports Physician.

Dr. Gerou was among only a few doctors in Michigan to complete the 120-hour, one-year, post-graduate program and to pass the test for the C.C.S.P. degree.

Associated wins press club honors

The Associated Newspapers, Inc. was the recipient of two first-place awards in the general excellence category of the University Press Club of Michigan contest.

The Westland Eagle and The Belleville Enterprise, two publications in the six-newspaper chain, were each recognized as the best in the state for their particular circulation categories.

"It is always exciting to do well in contests, but it is especially thrilling when we win the University Press Club of Michigan awards," said Managing Editor Barbara Wilson.

The Associated Newspapers has been the recipient of the general excellence award several times previously.

Last year, judges noted that no second place could be awarded, because no other newspaper in the state could be compared to The Westland Eagle.

Judges for the 1990 contest stated that The Belleville Enterprise "appears to have all the ingredients for a first-rate newspaper: energetic, aggressive reporting and clean, tight writing, strong editing, good use of photos and plenty of reader service."

Of The Westland Eagle, judges said, "These are some well-done news pages. Coverage of the hostage situation shows strong editorship and quick response to spot news by an enterprising staff. This paper is strong in its advertising design and ideas, editorial pages and typography."

In general, of Associated Newspapers, judges said, "These papers as a whole have strong reporting, writing and editing, beautiful display and are easy to read."

The Associated Newspapers, Inc. are owned by David J. Willett, son of the founder of the newspaper. The publisher is Sue Willett. Other managers include: Marketing Director Angie Koper, Retail Advertising Manager Lisa Stuart, Classified Advertising Manager Nanci Richardson, Production Manager Karen Guyor, Automotive Sales Manager Chris Brown, Circulation Manager Jennifer Cribbs, and News Editor Ted Coutilish.

Also published by Associated Newspapers are The Canton Eagle, The Romulus Roman, The Inkster Ledger Star, and The Wayne Eagle.

District should stand its ground

The Wayne-Westland Community School District is a quagmire of bleak financial projections, failure to understand the impact of school cutbacks, and lack of genuine understanding on the part of the teaching community.

The importance of teachers should never be underestimated. Their role is critical to the sound development of young minds. Parents are also key to the development of a healthy child into a healthy adult.

Children, however, should never be sacrificed for the demands of teachers' unions. It is the children who are the most important consideration in the Wayne-Westland situation, not the teachers.

It is the children who suffer as a result of shorter school days. It is the children who suffer as a result of cuts in art, music and physical education. It is children who suffer when they no longer have after-school activities. It is children who suffer when they are forced to use old textbooks and educational materials.

On the other hand, teachers suffer when they don't get a big pay boost. Teachers suffer when they have to teach six hours a day. Teachers suffer when they have to teach a few extra weeks of the year. Teachers suffer when their planning period is cut.

Placing the complaints of the teachers with the sufferings of the students, it is clear that the weightier problems lie with the failure of society, the community, and the teachers to place greater importance on the needs of the children.

A nine-percent pay increase, versus a four-percent pay increase for teachers will not affect the children. It will, however, place the district in a situation in which even more cuts will be made having direct impact on the students.

It is time for the Wayne-Westland teachers to make a deal, to place the priorities of the youth of the district before their own needs.

Wayne-Westland teachers are well-paid. They have good insurance. They work nine months each year (less when considering days off, spring, winter, mid-winter and other breaks). They work seven to eight hours a day, at most. They have a tough union that has managed in the past to get lucrative contracts past district officials.

But, the well has run dry. There are no more "cushy" contract options available for teachers. There is no more money available for students, and that is not going to change in the immediate future.

Without some major winfall from the state government or a generous benefactor, the Wayne-Westland school district is headed for a nightmarish fiscal situation.

So, if a contract is not reached and teachers choose to walk out next week, the district should remain strong. The teachers should not be permitted to put their needs before those of the children.

There are a great many unemployed teachers looking for an opportunity to work in front of a classroom.

If the current teachers don't want to negotiate in good faith, then they should be dismissed from their duties.

Although, this too will place children and families in an awkward situation until replacements could be hired, in the long run the children will be better off.

The children would not have been sacrificed for an extra two percent, a planning period or a missed rest period.

Clean up your act

The Inkster school district has been charged with failure to meet election guidelines regarding absentee ballots in their recent victory to receive an additional 2 mills from voters.

The Board of Canvassers has noted failure in several aspects of the election process which could have easily resulted in the 51-vote passage of the millage hike.

Local residents should be applauded for their diligence in serving as a watchdog in regard to this manner.

The school district should clean up its act.

Whether actions were taken deliberately to ensure passage, or whether the actions of the elections office were accidental, the situation should not have happened.

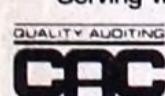

School officials are charged with the task of running district elections, and they should know the rules. If they don't, learn them now.

Teachers places blame on parents

In response to the charges of "wailing," "losing our grip," "wanting to be babied," etc., nothing could be farther from the truth as to the cause of our unrest as a high school biology teacher.

As a successful teacher for 24 years and as a parent, my greatest complaint is the increasing lack of commitment on the part of parents in sending to school students with a desire to learn, a concern for their education and future, basic skills and curiosities that parents used to instill in their children as both pre-schoolers and on a continuing basis thereafter, and most of all, instilled with basic courtesy.

I now have the problem of teaching my area of expertise, as well as be a surrogate parent, for increasing numbers of students from broken homes, homes without love and genuine commitment to their children, homes where there is little or no reinforcement to education, homes where courtesy is a thing of the past and not least of all, homes with alcohol and/or drug problems.

The numbers of parental contacts at open houses and parent-teacher conferences are a small fraction of the 140 students I teach each day. Where are these parents that are too busy to attend these important parental obligations?

No, my "wailing" is not of "lack or preparation time," but in the downward slide in the role of the family, the economic hardships ahead for the unskilled, uncaring workers that are increasing in numbers, and the decline in the position of the United States in the economic marketplace.

As for compairing "professionalism" as teachers to that of lawyers, dentists or doctors because of our jobs educational requirements and responsibilities, show me where these professions have to go begging to the community for pay increases to keep up with the basic cost of living increases, or where they, as I have had to hold two jobs for 24 years in order to have an income for those two and half months in the summer that so many assume teachers use exclusively for vacation.

If, in the final analysis, anyone in the community can show me where education will not be the crucial ingredient in determining the role the United States assumes in the world community, or if anyone can prove to me that many more parents have not abrogated their responsibilities to the schools, then we as teachers may be deserving of the disrespect we receive so often whenever we ask for a fair and equitable pay increase to go along with our ever-increasing responsibilities in the community.

Resident takes pleasure in walk

I am a senior citizen whose peregrinations each day take me to the Friendship Center on Newburgh Road in Westland. It is a pleasure walking through these beautifully-landscaped grounds and stopping to rest in Corbin Park. The Halloween decorations are an added pleasure. Some one is doing a great job and should be commended. A few added kudos to the Center's neighbor, Willow Creek, whose grounds are also very pleasing to the eye. They too should be applauded for their efforts to keep Westland beautiful. Please Mayor Thomas, in your future endeavors, try to spare our trees. Especially in the Marquette area where you are planning a new center.

Seniors cannot make it alone

I would like to make a comment on a statement made in your "Viewpoints" section of Oct. 11-17 issue of the Westland Eagle. The question was "What budget cuts would you make if you were a member of Congress?" One statement was made that "I don't think that senior citizens need all those discounts." I don't know of any discounts in government, but I'll tell you that senior citizens on fixed incomes cannot make it without discounts, sales and coupons. This was a young person that made the statement. I'm sure she will change her mind in a big way when she is a senior citizen. Thank you for taking the time to read this.

"It should help reduce the number of drunken drivers."

"It's O.K. It may help keep drunken drivers off the street."

"Yes, 30 days is a good start. Maybe 90 would be better."

"I think they should lose the right to drive period."

"It should be suspended more than for 30 days. The laws aren't stiff enough."

Rematch with Eagles next Belleville tunes up for finale with 24-14 win over Trenton

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Belleville exploded for two touchdowns in the last 10 minutes to overcome a 14-6 deficit and defeat Trenton 21-14 Friday night before a home crowd in the Wolverine 'A' Conference football finale for both teams.

A dazzling 72-yard pass-run touchdown play from quarterback Todd Yocum to split end Ron Hunter put the Tigers on the scoreboard with 9:16 remaining. The TD and ensuing conversion tied the game at 14-14.

With 3:15 left, Yocum culminated an eight-play, mid-field drive with Chris Zaccaria's one-yard touchdown run.

Yocum successfully booted all three point-after attempts.

"It was the kind of game that raised some doubts, but I am happy that we managed to pull it out and ended the league year with a victory," Belleville Coach Sam Villa said. "Trenton came to play. I don't remember a Trenton team put into this kind of situation before."

What Villa was referring to was the Trojans' winlessness. It was the first time in recent years the traditional powerhouse entered a last game with a horrendous 0-6 record.

Trenton grabbed a 7-0 lead late in the first quarter when junior fullback Gregg Simmons crashed over the Tiger goal line from the one.

Belleville tied the game with 4:39 left in the first half when Zaccaria capped a 71-yard drive with a three-yard touchdown run. Yocum alternated giving the ball to Hunter and Zaccaria in the 10-play series.

However, the visitors jolted Belleville with a last-minute touchdown in the second quarter. They pulled it off with Greg Irde's one-yard run.

"We played a sloppy first half, especially on defense," Villa said. "We made up for it in the second half. Bradford helped us tremendously."

Lee Bradford rushed for 50 yards on seven carries and kept the last-quarter touchdown drives alive with first-down yardage.

Zaccaria finished with 68 yards on 15 carries and two touchdowns, while Yocum completed four of nine passes for 150 yards.

Wyandotte captured the 1990 conference title with a 6-1 record. Fordson and Wayne drop-

Belleville could finish the season with a three-game winning streak if the Tigers can stop a young and bold Romulus team. The winless Eagles have been a thorn in the Tigers' side over the years.

"I haven't beaten a Dan Henry coached team," Villa said. "They are an exceptionally well-coached team and they upset us a year ago. They play tough."

The Tigers came within a couple of points of making the 1990 season a memorable and title year.

Romulus ends era with loss

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

It was the end of an era for the Romulus High football team Friday night.

And if you ask second-year coach Dan Henry, it came not a minute too soon.

Romulus played its final football game in the South Central Conference. School officials have decided Romulus will compete as an independent next year, and will continue to do so until they can find a compatible league.

"We're overwhelmed by their numbers," said Henry, after the Eagles lost a 39-7 decision to Ann Arbor Pioneer. "With a declining enrollment, we just can't compete with these teams."

The loss left the Eagles with an 0-4 SCC record and an 0-8 mark for the season. They will end the 1990 campaign Friday night at Belleville, a team they upset a year ago.

Henry said the Belleville record (3-5) "is not indicative of the kind of quality team the Tigers have this year."

"They are a better team than their record indicates," Henry said. "They have an excellent quarterback in Todd Yocum. Their tailback (Chris Zaccaria) and split end (Ron Hunter) are among the best I have seen all year long. If we beat them, it would have to be categorized as an upset."

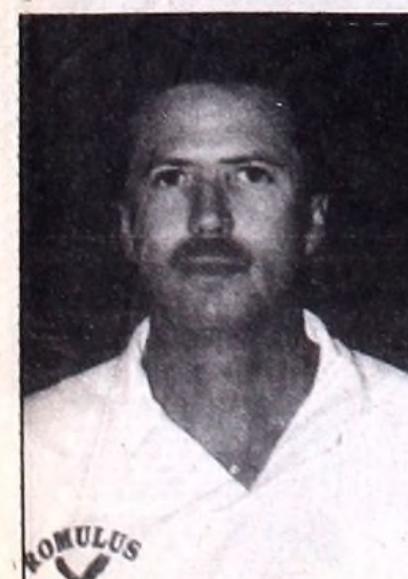

Romulus did have Pioneer wondering of its true strength for most of the first quarter. Ann Arbor was not able to penetrate the Romulus defense on its first three possessions.

However, Pioneer erupted for 23 points in the second quarter to add to its 7-point first quarter total.

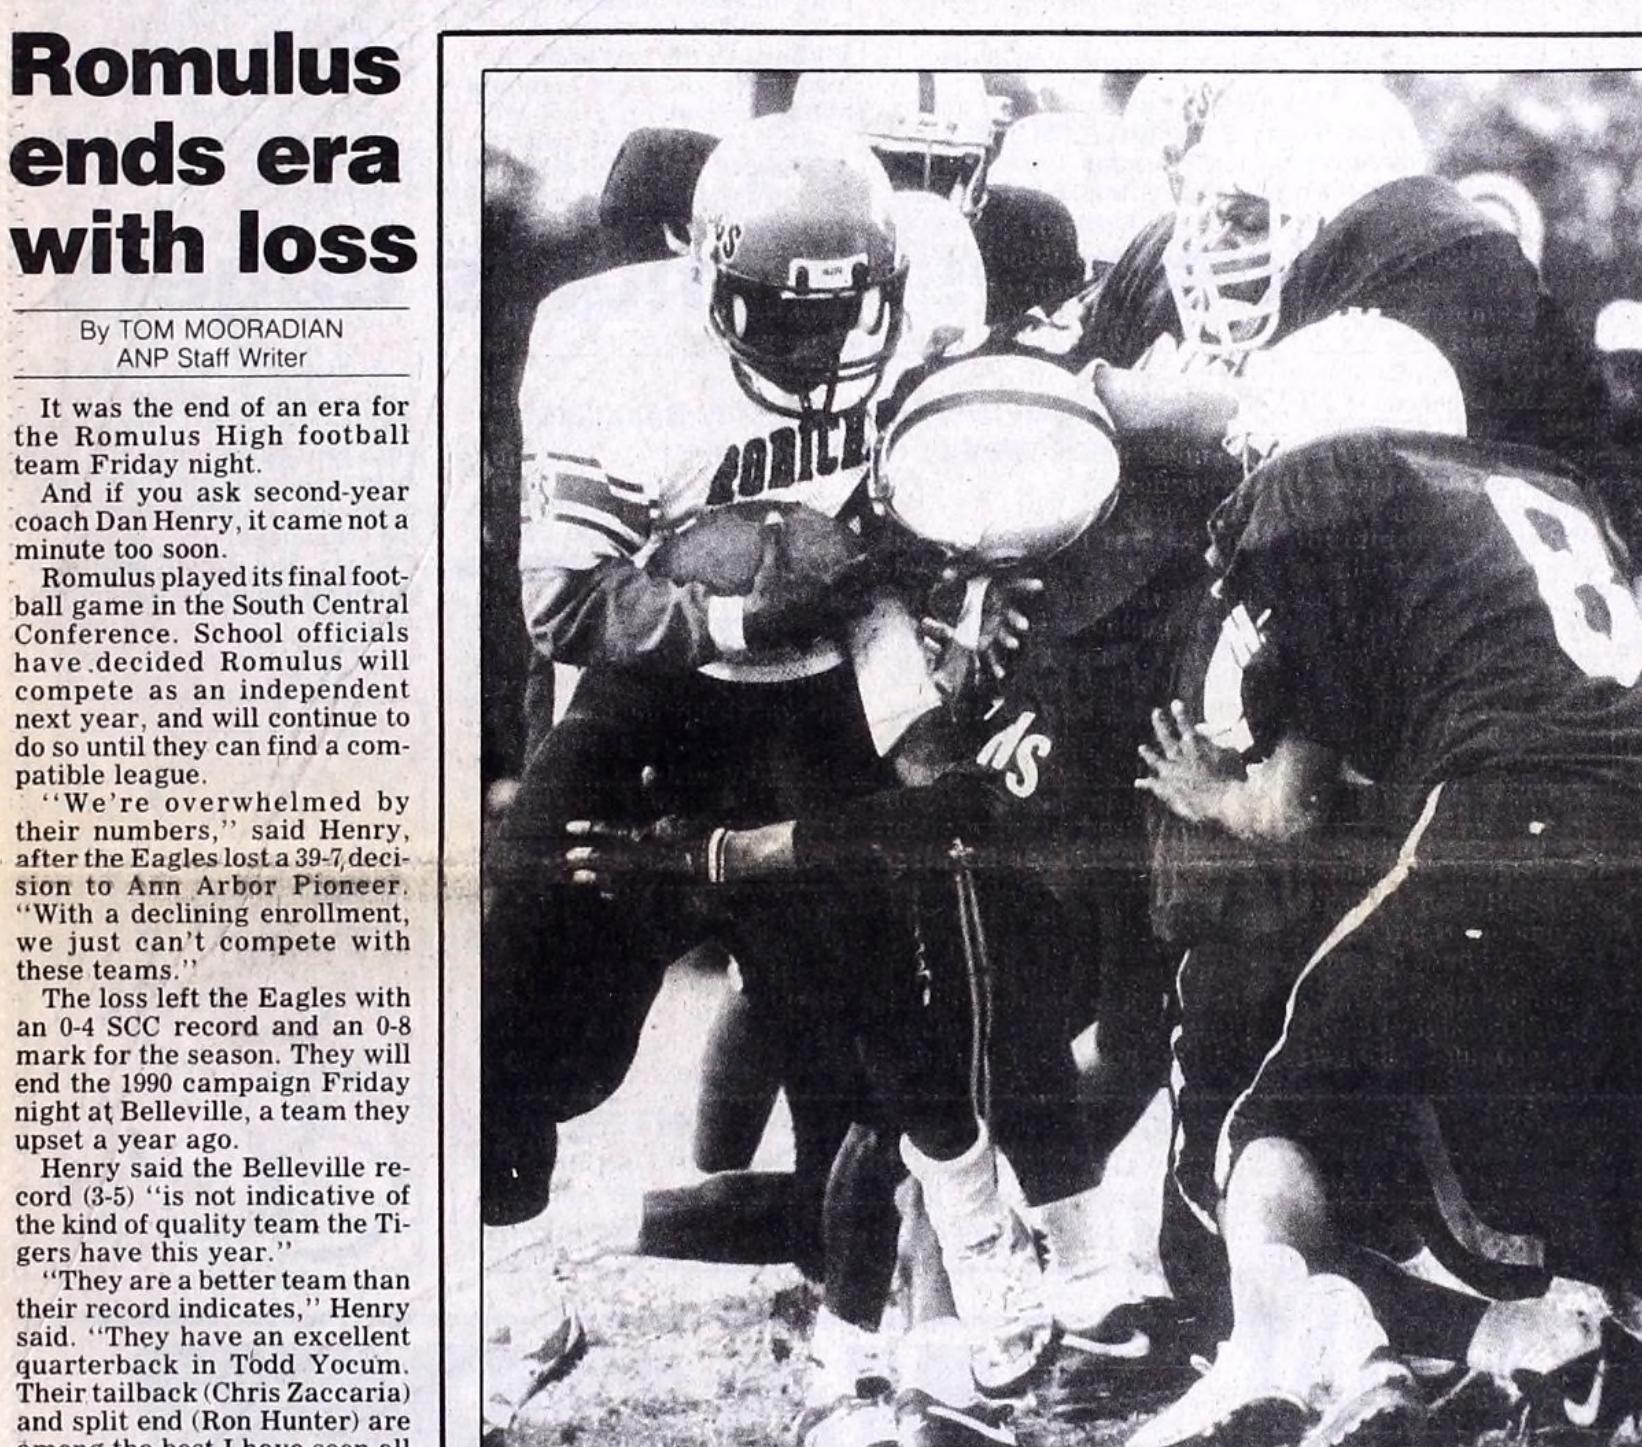

Romulus managed to avert a shutout late in the fourth quarter when quarterback Bob Bergeron sparked a 43-yard drive, capped with tailback Eben Smith's six-yard touchdown run.

"(Pioneer) dominated us," Henry said. "But our kids never let down. They played until the final second."

Sophomore strong safety Rob Thompson had eight tackles for Romulus.

Homecoming

Robichaud spoils Vikings' day

Leave it to Robichaud to spoil the afternoon for a Homecoming crowd at Inkster High School.

Erupting for a 22-point first quarter, the Bulldogs of Robichaud served notice early to Inkster that they wouldn't tolerate an upset from their natural rival, Homecoming or no Homecoming.

Robichaud burned Inkster, 45-0, in an abbreviated game called in the fourth quarter due to the mercy rule. (When a team has a 45-point edge over its opponents, officials may end the game.) The victory enhanced, but did not ensure, a playoff berth for the gridironers from Dearborn Heights.

They must win their final game of the season in order to receive an invitation to the playoffs.

"I don't think our kids wanted to take any chances," stressed Robichaud coach Bob Yauck, after the unexpectedly easy triumph over the Vikings. "We got down to work early and finished them (Inkster) off. We have a lot on our minds these days."

What Yauck and his players must now do is find a way to beat Dearborn Heights Crestwood Friday. Crestwood stands between the Bulldogs and a postseason playoff berth, Yauck said.

"If we can beat them, we should have no problem qualifying for the playoffs," Yauck continued. "However, a loss would jeopardize our chances."

Yauck said that Crestwood "is an improved team blessed with a lot of speed."

"They have speed to burn in their backfield. Some of those kids ran on their speed relay team. This game will be an excellent test for our defense."

However, you won't find the Bulldogs standing at the starting gate either. With senior Tyrone Wheatley, the two-time Class B sprinting champ calling signals or playing tailback, the Bulldogs have enough jet power to fly with the best of them.

Robichaud will also have the home field advantage. The Bulldogs will host the 3:30 p.m. game.

In the meantime, Robichaud is enjoying its seventh victory in eight starts at the expense of the Vikings. They also received a pleasant surprise and a share of the Suburban Athletic Conference championship thanks to Oak Park's 14-6 victory over previously undefeated Highland Park.

"We sort of backed into this title, wouldn't you say?" Yauck rhetorically asked.

The Vikings, with a host of local and county dignitaries in the audience, just couldn't stop Wheatley, who single-handedly scored 25 of his team's 45 points. Though he carried the ball only eight times, Wheatley rushed for 46 yards and scored three touchdowns to boast his point-total to 150 this season.

In the opening period, Wheatley capped a 63-yard drive that took all of five plays and scored on a two-yard run. Then, after Greg Murphy intercepted an Inkster pass and returned it 25 yards to the Viking 10, Wheatley came up with his second TD of the game - a three-yarder. He elected to go for the two-point conversion and made it.

Inkster will end the season Friday night on the road at Bay City John Glenn.

Gray captures Wolverine 'A' league crown

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Despite a sterling performance by sophomore Anne Gray, undefeated Belleville High finished a disappointing third at the annual Wolverine 'A' Conference women's cross country championships.

Gray, 14, placed first in 19:41, beating Carrie VanSacker of Monroe to the finish line. VanSacker was clocked in 20:20.

However, Belleville (69) fell one point behind second-place finishing Wyandotte (68) and trailed defending league champ Trenton by 15 points in the final standings. Monroe was fourth (71), followed by Lincoln Park (112), Dearborn Fordson (113) and Southgate Anderson and Wayne Memorial. Wayne and Anderson didn't finish.

The one-point loss to Wyandotte cost Belleville a share of the title, according to Belleville Coach Sam Vicchy.

"Since we count the dual meets and our finish at the league championships, if we had finished in second, we would have shared the title with Trenton," Vicchy said.

Vicchy said he was disappointed with his runners "and they knew it."

"We should have, could have won this thing," Vicchy added. "We just weren't ready to bite the bullet."

Belleville had beaten Trenton in a head-to-head dual meet earlier in the week. The Tigers finished with a perfect 7-0 conference and a 9-0 overall record.

Monroe swimmers end Tiger streak

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

First-year Belleville swim coach Matt Kirschner will have an opportunity to discover what it's like to "jump from the frying pan into the fire."

Belleville lost to Monroe last week and faces undefeated Trenton this week.

The Tigers were undefeated and riding the crest of a four-meet winning streak before the Monroe meet. The Trojans made short work of their Wolverine 'A' Conference rivals, beating them 133-57. It was the Tigers first setback in five starts.

Trenton faces Monroe at 7:30 tonight. Trenton defeated Monroe earlier this season by 26 points.

"Obviously, it is going to get worse before it gets better," said Kirschner, who is missing key performers from his lineup. "I have to give our girls a lot of credit. They have kept their spirits up despite this loss and the absence of some of Gray and Carmelita Brown, who finished seventh in 21:25, were named to the all-conference team. (The top 10 runners earn all-conference consideration).

Other Belleville runners whose times counted in the league championships included: Christine Wilson, who finished 13th (22:49); Amy Fisher, 22nd (23:30); Rachel Hunter, 25th (23:39); Taria Jared, 28th (24:04) and Jennifer Woodington, 31st (24:24).

Belleville will join 19 other area high school teams on Saturday at Riverview Highlands to compete for the Class A regional championships. If the Tigers can finish among the top three teams, they will advance to the state finals next Saturday on the University of Michigan (Ann Arbor) golf course. If they don't finish in the running, then individuals who are among the top 10 finishers, excluding members of the top three teams, will also advance to the state to compete for the state individual titles.

"We should have, could have won this thing," Vicchy added. "We just weren't ready to bite the bullet."

Belleville had beaten Trenton in a head-to-head dual meet earlier in the week. The Tigers finished with a perfect 7-0 conference and a 9-0 overall record.

their teammates."

Four veteran swimmers have left the team, leaving Kirschner with 24 swimmers.

Belleville managed to pick up only one first place against Monroe. They averted the shut-out thanks to Kristin Curtis' performance in the 100-yard butterfly. She turned in her best personal time (1:09.23) in the event.

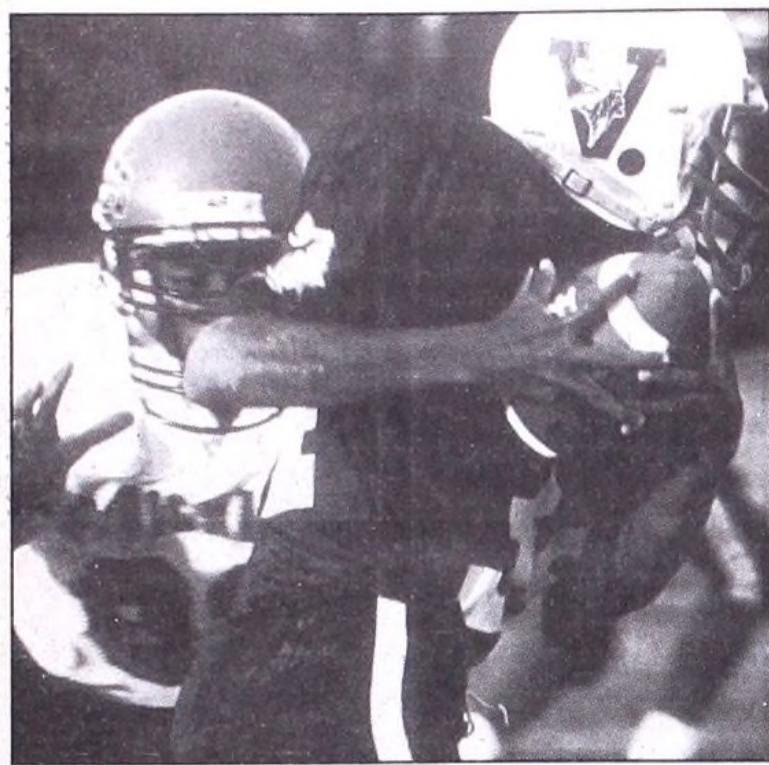

A pair of losses would leave the Tigers in third place when they head into the Wolverine 'A' Conference championship next month.

Tigers place 2 on all-conference

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Although they finished third at the 1990 Wolverine 'A' Conference cross country championships on Saturday, the Belleville Tigers managed to place two of their runners on the coveted all-conference team.

The two are seniors Jason Kidwell and Gary Knowlton.

Kidwell finished fifth while Knowlton was 10th, the final berth on the mythical team. (The top 10 runners are designated as members of the all-conference team).

Monroe, the defending champ, repeated its title-run of a year ago. The Trojans dominated the 1990 championships as they compiled 25 team points.

Trailing the champs in the final standings were: Wyandotte (66), Belleville (68), Dearborn Fordson (16), Trenton (129) and Lincoln Park (168).

For the first time in recent history, Wayne Memorial runners didn't finish. Southgate Anderson, also a league affiliate, didn't have a full complement of runners.

Belleville Coach Dave Medley will take his team to the Class A regionals on Saturday. The Tigers must finish among the top three to qualify for the state finals, which will be staged a week from Saturday at the University of Michigan Golf Course.

Also, the top 10 individual runners, excluding the members of the qualifying teams will advance to the state.

Adrian destroys Romulus cagers

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus cagers "run and hide" when they see a South Central Conference opponent.

That's the opinion of Romulus women's basketball coach Tim Cullen after the Eagles lost a 57-38 decision to Adrian last week.

"It seems every time we play a conference rival, our kids want to run and hide," Cullen said. "And I am fed up. These kids are just as good as anyone. It appears to me that we just can't handle the pressure of competition in this league."

Adrian jumped off to a 16-3 lead in the first period. Led by Sue Molenda, the Eagles came back and outscored their rivals 17-12 in the second period, but they never came closer than 10 points after the first half.

Adrian led 28-20 at intermission, increased its advantage with a 16-6 edge in the third period to widen the gap at 44-26 for three periods. The winners had a 13-12 scoring edge for the final stanza.

Molenda, who had nine of her team-high 15 points in the second period, paced the losers.

Romulus did get some good news last week as previously injured veteran Carmita

Brown returned to the lineup.

"She's at full strength now," Cullen said. "We're going to need more scoring power from the entire lineup."

The loss dopped the Eagles to 2-3 in the conference. They are 7-6 overall on the season.

Title in hand Vikings look forward to district playoffs

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

With convincing victories last week over Oak Park and Ecorse, the Inkster Vikings have sealed the 1990 Suburban Athletic Conference women's basketball championship.

Coach Dwight Hotchkiss and the Vikings turned back second-place Oak Park 58-35 on Thursday. They buried Ecorse 71-22 earlier in the week.

As the week began, Inkster boasted an unblemished 9-0 SAC record. It has an enviable 14-1 mark for the season, and will probably move up a notch in the Class B state rankings, according to Hotchkiss.

"We were ranked fifth a week ago, however, I believe our performance merits a move or two up the scale," Hotchkiss said.

Whether the Vikings will deserve a better rating will probably depend on their efforts in the stretch. They still have to contend with a sterling Dearborn team, after they finish up the conference season this week. Highland Park and River Rouge are the Vikings' remaining league opponents.

Inkster whipped the Parkers by 20 points the first time around and the Rouge Panthers also tumbled without any problems.

"The nearest team has two losses," Hotchkiss said. "Even if we should lose both (games), we still would have the title."

the shooting and, after she pumped in 12 of her 17 points, the Vikings had a commanding 32-20 lead at intermission.

Inkster outscored its rivals 15-10 and 11-5 in the final two periods as the Redskins failed to muster a challenge in the stretch.

Oak Park received 13 points from Nicole Buckner, the only Redskin to hit in double figures.

Scott drilled in 16 points in less than two periods of play and Alexis Watson chipped in 10 as the Vikings routed Ecorse 71-22 in their final meeting of the SAC season.

"We're looking forward to the playoffs," Hotchkiss said. "I feel that Dearborn will give us an excellent opportunity to see if we are ready."

The state playoffs will get underway the second week of November.

at 5:30 p.m. today when the Willow Run Flyers visit in a non-league game. The Eagles will travel Friday night to Essex, Ontario, for their traditional international game with the Canadians.

Essex has never beaten a Romulus women's basketball team.

As the chart shows, our minimum balance requirement for free Regular Checking is just $250.00. That's lower than the average of five other major area banks. They also charge you more — and we save you more — if you dip below the minimum. And we offer you a variety of other ways to enjoy free checking, too.

The bottom line: The most you can pay annually for Standard Federal Regular Checking is $36.00. Our five competitors' average fees are $177.60. What more can we say?

Plenty. We offer free ATM use at over 150 locations including select Standard Federal branch offices and participating 7-Eleven stores. And right now, we'll pay you up to $10.00 for your unused checks from another bank when you open any checking account with us — Regular, Interest-Bearing or Money Market.

Start getting your money's worth from your checking account. Switch to Standard Federal today.

Check With Us And Save

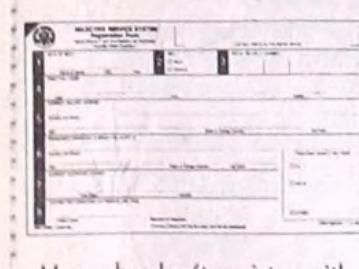

Standard Federal	Average of Five Other Area Banks
Regular Checking
Minimum Balance Requirement for Free Checking	$250.00 $649.00
Monthly Fee For Not Maintaining Minimum	3.00 4.00

Maximum Annual Fees	36.00 177.60

The competitive prices in this table represent the average prices of the five largest banks in the Southeast Michigan area. Average prices shown in the comparison are for "stand alone" checking accounts with cancelled checks returned. For illustrative purposes, "Maximum Annual Fees" assume checkwriting activity of 30 checks per month. All figures are annualized.
